Antigua and Barbuda visa guide for Bangladeshi passport holders

How to apply: Visa required (eVisa) · Last checked: 3 November 2026 · Online version: https://travelcsbd.com/visa/antigua-and-barbuda/

The Consulate of Antigua and Barbuda in New York lists Bangladesh among Commonwealth countries whose citizens need a visa, and says people who need a visa can apply through the eVisa portal. That page is marked 2016 and gives no eVisa fee or processing time, so those items are marked for confirmation. A local news report also says the country decided not to drop the visa requirement for Bangladesh. Last checked 3 November 2026.

How to travel

- Citizens of countries not on the visa-exempt list need a visa, and Bangladesh is named among the Commonwealth countries requiring one. People who need a visa can apply online through the eVisa portal.
- Visitors are expected to hold a passport valid for at least 6 months beyond departure, an onward or return ticket, confirmed accommodation and proof of funds. A visa never guarantees entry; immigration officers decide on arrival.

Partly verified

Total cost

- Visa government fee: not confirmed for Bangladeshi applicants (commercial sites say about US$100 for single entry; unverified). The US$100 visa on arrival applies only to holders of a valid US, Canadian, Schengen or UK visa or residence card. Airfare and accommodation are extra. Travel Counsellor Ltd. service charges, if any, are quoted separately in BDT by our office. Checked 3 November 2026.

Transit and connecting visas

- Most flights from Dhaka connect through other countries (often the UK, US, Canada or Gulf hubs) which may require their own transit or entry visas. Check each country's rules separately.
