Argentina visa guide for Bangladeshi passport holders

How to apply: Tourist visa via Argentine Embassy, Dhaka · Last checked: 2 November 2026 · Online version: https://travelcsbd.com/visa/argentina/

The Argentine Embassy in Dhaka (Banani) takes tourist visa applications: you email your scanned passport and purpose of travel, submit the full application package by email 45 days before the trip, pay the visa fee through the bank, and attend an in-person consular interview. The Foreign Ministry's tourist-visa page lists a fee of USD or EUR 150 depending on the consular office and a maximum stay of 90 days. Neither official page names Bangladesh, so the visa requirement and the exact Dhaka fee are marked partly verified. Last checked 1 November 2026.

How to apply

- Email your scanned passport and the purpose of your visit to the embassy's visa address (visas.ebang@mrecic.gov.ar). Then submit the full application package by email at least 45 days before the trip. The embassy schedules an in-person consular interview in Dhaka once the package is complete, and the visa fee is paid through the bank.
- The Foreign Ministry says consular authorities may request extra documents and that meeting all requirements does not guarantee a visa. The embassy warns that travelling for a purpose other than the one declared may lead to rejection and an entry ban.

Total cost

- Government fee: USD or EUR 150 depending on the consular office, paid in local currency (Foreign Ministry, checked 1 November 2026). The Dhaka embassy page does not state the amount, so confirm the figure and BDT conversion. Fees are non-refundable. Translation, photos, courier and any Travel Counsellor Ltd. service charge are separate and quoted in BDT by our office.

Partly verified

Processing time

- No official processing time is published. Plan to submit at least 45 days before travel and do not buy non-refundable tickets before the visa is granted.
