Marshall Islands visa guide for Bangladeshi passport holders

How to apply: Visa to be arranged in advance (confirm with RMI Immigration) · Last checked: 3 November 2026 · Online version: https://travelcsbd.com/visa/marshall-islands/

The Republic of the Marshall Islands (RMI) embassy in Washington states that citizens of countries not on its exempt or visa-on-arrival lists must apply for a visa before travel, with a visitor visa (V-1) application fee of USD 100. Bangladesh is not named on the pages we could read, so the exact rule for Bangladeshi passport holders must be confirmed with RMI Immigration before you book. Third-party sites also say a visa is required. Last checked 3 November 2026.

How to travel

- According to the RMI embassy, travellers whose country is not on the exempt or visa-on-arrival list must apply for a visa before travelling. Bangladesh is not named on the pages we could read, and third-party sites say a visa is required, so plan to confirm and apply before booking flights.
- Flights to Majuro are few and connect through other countries (for example Honolulu or Guam), and those countries may need their own transit or entry visas. Check each one separately.

Partly verified

Total cost

- Visitor visa application fee: USD 100 (non-refundable), plus USD 20 departure fee, per the RMI embassy page. Flights, courier and bank charges are extra. Travel Counsellor Ltd. service charges, if any, are quoted separately in BDT by our office. Checked 3 November 2026.

Things to watch

- Bangladesh is not named on the official pages we could read. Get written confirmation from RMI Immigration before paying or booking.
- Printed itineraries and tickets are recommended; officers may not accept digital copies if verification fails.
- Do not use dummy tickets or fake bookings.
- Travel Counsellor Ltd. is a private consultancy, not an embassy. Visa decisions rest with the Marshall Islands authorities.
- No approval is guaranteed and rules can change.

Frequently asked questions

Do Bangladeshis need a visa for the Marshall Islands?
Most likely yes. The RMI embassy says nationals of countries not on its exempt or visa-on-arrival lists must apply in advance. Bangladesh is not named, so confirm with RMI Immigration.

What is the visa fee?
The RMI embassy page lists USD 100 for a visitor visa (V-1) application, plus a USD 20 departure fee. Confirm the current amount.

Is there a Marshall Islands embassy in Dhaka?
We found none. The RMI embassy is in Washington, D.C. and RMI Immigration is in Majuro; ask them which office handles Bangladeshi applications.

How long can I stay?
Not stated for Bangladesh. Visa-on-arrival visitors may stay up to 90 days, but your permitted stay depends on the visa issued.
