Suriname visa guide for Bangladeshi passport holders

How to apply: Online eVisa (VFS) - 90-day stay · Last checked: 4 November 2026 · Online version: https://travelcsbd.com/visa/suriname/

The official Suriname eVisa portal run by VFS Global for the Ministry of Foreign Affairs lists Bangladesh in its eVisa country list, all passport types, with a 90-day stay for tourist, business, transit and short-stay purposes. The Suriname immigration (ICF) page also says Bangladesh needs an e-Visa. Some third-party sites say Bangladeshis are visa-free; the official pages do not support that. Fee amounts shown on the portal are not labelled by nationality, so the total cost is marked as partly verified. Last checked 4 November 2026.

Quick facts

Visa needed?
Yes. Bangladesh is on the eVisa country list of the Suriname eVisa portal (all passport types) and on the ICF requirements page ('Bangladesh - Yes, e-VISA Required').
Official source checked

Where to apply
Online only at the Suriname eVisa portal (suriname.vfsevisa.com). No Surinamese embassy in Dhaka was verified, so no embassy visit is shown here.
Official source checked

Fee
VFS fee table (USD): single entry 90 days, visa fee 50 plus service fee 8; multiple entry 3 months, 60 plus 18; multiple entry 1 year, 210 plus 18; transit 3 days, 15 plus 18; short stay (MKV) 45 plus 18. The table is not labelled by nationality and the column order was inferred, so confirm the exact amount shown in your application and the BDT equivalent with our office.
Partly verified

Stay
90 days for tourist, business, transit and short-stay purposes as listed for Bangladesh; transit is 3 days in the fee table.
Official source checked

Processing time
VFS says visas can be issued within 72 hours of payment if all documents are correct; if it takes more than five working days, contact VFS staff.
Official source checked

Passport validity
At least 6 months from the date of departure from Suriname, with blank pages for the immigration officer (VFS FAQ says at least one; the eTourist Card page says two).
Official source checked

Return ticket and funds
The eTourist Card page (for other nationalities) asks for a round-trip ticket, verifiable accommodation, sufficient means and travel or health insurance. The exact list for Bangladeshi tourist applicants depends on the category page on the portal, so confirm it there.
Partly verified

Health

Yellow fever rules were not found on the portal pages checked. Confirm the requirement with our office and the Suriname health authority before travel.

How to apply

- Open the Suriname eVisa portal, upload the passport bio page (the system reads it automatically), complete the online form for your purpose (tourism, business, transit or short stay), upload the documents the category page asks for, and pay the fee online.
- VFS says the Ministry of Foreign Affairs decides whether to grant a visa, VFS cannot guarantee approval, and the immigration officer at the airport makes the final entry decision. Visa and service fees are non-refundable even if the eVisa is denied.
- If you are asked for extra documents and do not submit them within 30 days, the eVisa is denied and you must reapply with new fees.
- On arrival, show your passport and eVisa and complete the online Immigration and Customs (ICF) form at icf.sr.

Total cost

- Government visa fee plus VFS service fee, paid in USD or EUR online. For a single-entry 90-day eVisa the VFS fee table shows 50 plus 8 (USD 58 in total), but the table does not label amounts by nationality, so check the amount on the final payment screen. Travel Counsellor Ltd. service charges, if any, are quoted separately in BDT by our office. Checked 4 November 2026.

Risks for Bangladeshi applicants

- Suriname has no direct flights from Dhaka, so you will transit through other countries (often Europe, the Middle East or the Americas). Each transit country may need its own visa; check them separately.
- Do not buy an eVisa from unofficial websites. Use the VFS portal address given on the official ICF page and the Ministry of Foreign Affairs.

Things to watch

- Some third-party sites say Bangladeshis are visa-free for 90 days. The official eVisa portal and ICF page list Bangladesh as needing an eVisa.
- The eTourist Card page lists only certain nationalities; the Bangladeshi category and fee must be confirmed on the portal.
- Do not use dummy tickets or fake bookings.
- Travel Counsellor Ltd. is a private consultancy, not an embassy. Visa decisions rest with the Suriname Ministry of Foreign Affairs and entry with immigration.
- No approval is guaranteed, and fees and rules can change.

Frequently asked questions

Do Bangladeshis need a visa for Suriname?

Yes. The official Suriname eVisa portal and the ICF page list Bangladesh as needing an eVisa.

Where do I apply?

Online at the Suriname eVisa portal run by VFS Global. We did not verify any Surinamese embassy in Dhaka.

How long does it take?

VFS says up to 72 hours after payment if documents are complete. Allow extra time and do not buy tickets before approval.

How much does it cost?

The VFS table shows USD 50 visa fee plus USD 8 service fee for a single-entry 90-day eVisa, but check the final payment screen. Confirm the BDT equivalent with our office.

Is approval guaranteed?

No. The Ministry of Foreign Affairs decides, and immigration makes the final entry decision.
