Venezuela visa guide for Bangladeshi passport holders

How to apply: Embassy visa (New Delhi); travel advisories · Last checked: 4 November 2026 · Online version: https://travelcsbd.com/visa/venezuela/

We found no official Venezuelan page that states the visa rule for Bangladeshi citizens, so the key facts below are marked for confirmation. Venezuela's foreign ministry (MPPRE) publishes pages for tourist and other visa types and says the consular fee must be checked with the diplomatic or consular post. We could not verify a Venezuelan embassy or consulate in Dhaka; third-party sites say Bangladeshi applicants use the embassy in New Delhi, which we have not confirmed on an official page. Important: the UK Foreign Office advises against all travel to border areas, Amazonas and parts of Bolivar state, and against all but essential travel to the rest of Venezuela, and commercial flights are limited. Last checked 4 November 2026.

Quick facts

Visa needed?
Third-party sites say Bangladeshi citizens need a visa before travel. No official Venezuelan page confirming this for Bangladesh was found. Confirm with the embassy before any booking.

Safety and advisories

- The UK Foreign Office advises against all travel to border zones, Amazonas and the Orinoco Mining Arc, and against all but essential travel to the rest of Venezuela. Travel insurance may be invalid if you travel against government advice. Commercial flight availability is limited and Caracas airport resumed limited operations on 1 September.
- The US State Department also publishes a Venezuela advisory with its highest warnings for some areas; its level changes, so read the live page before deciding. We did not verify any Bangladeshi diplomatic presence in Venezuela, so plan for limited consular help in an emergency.

How to apply

- Contact the Venezuelan embassy or consulate that accepts Bangladeshi citizens (third-party sites say New Delhi) and ask in writing about the tourist or business visa category, documents, fee, payment method and appointment. Do not pay any agent who cannot show the embassy's written instruction.
- Travel Counsellor Ltd. can help you prepare a genuine file. Any approval is decided by the Venezuelan authority, not by us.

Total cost

- Government consular fee: set by the Venezuelan post and not published for Bangladeshi citizens on a page we could read; confirm the amount and currency. Add courier, translation, medical certificate and travel to the embassy if you apply abroad. Travel Counsellor Ltd. service charges, if any, are quoted separately in BDT by our office. Checked 4 November 2026.

Partly verified

Transit and connecting visas

- There are few direct routes from Dhaka. Connecting countries (and any Latin American transit points) may need their own transit visas. Check each separately.

Things to watch

- Safety: UK FCDO advises against all travel to several areas and against all but essential travel to the rest of Venezuela. Read the latest advice and check your insurance before paying for anything.
- No official Venezuelan page confirming the Bangladesh rule was found; do not rely on commercial visa sites.
- Beware of agents promising quick Venezuelan visas. Pay fees only as the embassy instructs.
- Do not use dummy tickets or fake bookings.
- Travel Counsellor Ltd. is a private consultancy, not an embassy. Decisions rest with the Venezuelan authority.
- No approval is guaranteed, and fees and rules change.

Frequently asked questions

Do Bangladeshis need a visa for Venezuela?

Third-party sites say yes, but we found no official Venezuelan page for Bangladesh. Confirm with the embassy in writing before booking.

Is there a Venezuelan embassy in Dhaka?
We could not verify one. Third-party sites say applicants use New Delhi; confirm that on an official channel.

Is Venezuela safe to visit?
The UK Foreign Office advises against all travel to some areas and against all but essential travel elsewhere. Read the live advisories first.

How much is the visa fee?
MPPRE says to ask the consular post. We could not verify the amount; confirm with the embassy.
